was not the best.*

Second Hand Meat Market

A market where a whole cow was bought. The person would cut off what he needs and then sell the rest to the market in order to distribute onward.

Hygiene

Bathing Habits

Very few people had baths, if at all. In 1830 a census was taken in America that illustrated some people had not had a bath in their entire life.

Health

Unique Dentistry and Medicine

Anaesthetics were rarely used. People had to endure pain.

When Lord Palmerston, premier of England, was petitioned by the Scottish clergy to appoint a day of fasting and prayer to avert the cholera, he replied, “Cleanse and disinfect your streets and houses, promote cleanliness and health among the poor, and see that they are plentifully supplied with good food and raiment, and employ right sanitary measures generally, and you will have no occasion to fast and pray. Nor will the Lord hear your prayers while these, his preventives, remain unheeded.

Social Settings

Ladies wore long dresses and men wore suits and ties. Everyone wore hats.

There seemed to be a bicycle craze. Money was spent to gratify an enthusiasm in this direction that might better, far better, have been invested in building houses of worship where they are greatly needed. There were presented before me some very strange things in Battle Creek. A bewitching influence seemed to be passing as a wave over our people there, and I saw that this would be followed by other temptations. . . . This is a species of idolatry.

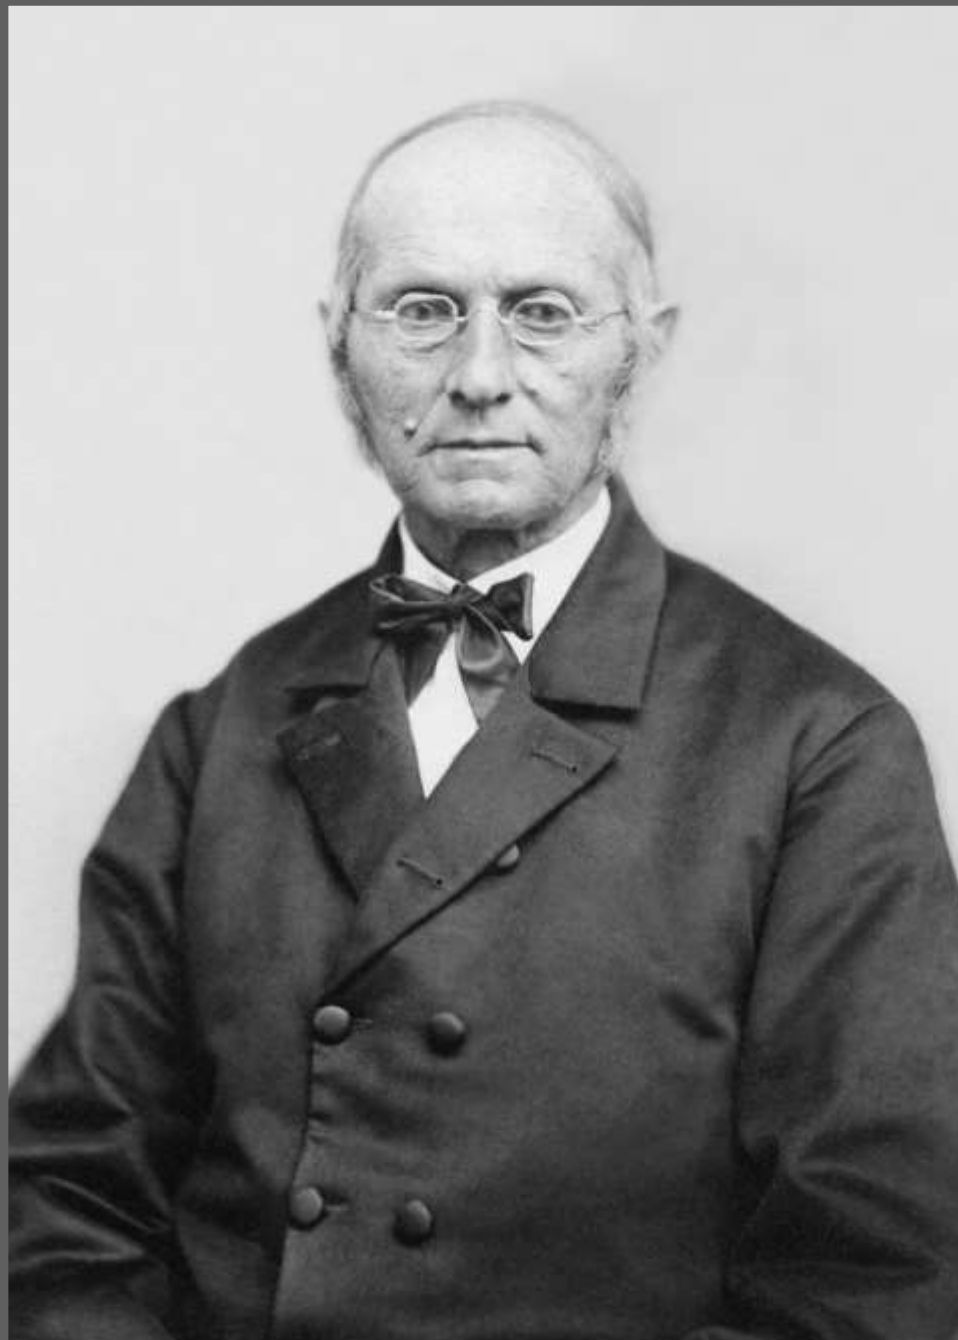

Testimonies to the Church Volume 8

We do not differ from the common style of woman's dress for any such object. We choose to agree with others in theory and in practice, if we can do so, and at the same time be in harmony with the law of God, and with the laws of our being. We believe it wrong to differ from others, unless it be necessary to differ in order to be right. In bearing the cross of adopting the reform dress, we are led by a sense of duty. And although it may appear objectionable to those who are governed by fashion, we claim that it is the most convenient, the most truly modest, and the most healthful style of dress worn by woman.

Victorians smoked a lot and had lots of health hazards

On 5 June 1863, Ellen White had a vision that pointed out the hazards of tea, coffee, smoking and promoted health as an aid to intellectual and spiritual growth.

13 March 1858, Ellen White had a vision which she called 'The Great Controversy'

This led to the book which helped the church formulate the Three Angels' Message focus of our teachings.
